1. The Classic Knock Knock Joke Structure

Before we dive into the galaxy far, far away, let's revisit the fundamentals of a knock knock joke. The format is simple, which is why it endures across generations:

1. Person A: "Knock, knock."
2. Person B: "Who's there?"
3. Person A: "X."
4. Person B: "X who?"
5. Person A: "Punchline."

Key to a good knock knock joke is the wordplay or pun that ties the setup to the punchline. When you bring Star Wars into this structure, you're essentially layering the beloved universe's characters, locations, and lore into that familiar comedic rhythm.
