When a groom looks for someone to stand beside him on the most important day of his life, the choice of a best man is a decision that carries weight, responsibility, and a touch of tradition. In the world of wedding planning, the best man is often seen as the groom's right-hand man, the one who ensures everything runs smoothly and that the celebration stays true to the couple's vision. Among the many candidates who might be called upon for this role, Kristan Higgins has emerged as a standout example of what it means to be the best man in every sense of the word. This article explores the duties of a best man, delves into Kristan Higgins' unique qualities, and offers actionable tips for anyone aspiring to take on this pivotal role.

1. What Is a Best Man?

The best man's role is steeped in history and ceremony. Traditionally, the best man was a close friend or relative of the groom who assisted in the legal and logistical aspects of marriage, such as witnessing the signature on the marriage license. In modern weddings, the position has evolved into a blend of ceremonial duties, logistical coordination, and emotional support. The best man is often the first point of contact for the groomsmen, the guardian of the wedding rings, the speaker at the reception, and a general "go-to" person for the groom throughout the planning process.

Key Responsibilities

- Coordinating the bachelor party
- Organizing and leading the groomsmen
- Managing the wedding rings
- Delivering a heartfelt speech
- Providing logistical support on the wedding day
- Offering emotional support to the groom and other members of the wedding party

Each of these responsibilities requires a blend of leadership, communication skills, and a deep understanding of the couple's needs. While the tasks may seem straightforward, the best man must anticipate challenges, remain flexible, and maintain a positive attitude throughout the entire process.

3. Key Responsibilities of the Best Man

3.1 Planning the Bachelor Party

The bachelor party is a rite of passage for many grooms, and it's the first major task that falls under the best man's purview. Kristan's approach to planning the bachelor party involves a balance between the groom's preferences and a realistic budget. He typically starts by gathering input from the groom and the groomsmen, then drafts a proposal that includes activities, location, and a timeline. By securing reservations and confirming details weeks in advance, Kristan ensures that the bachelor party becomes a memorable highlight rather than a logistical nightmare.

3.2 Coordinating with Groomsmen

Effective coordination with the groomsmen is essential for a cohesive wedding day. Kristan keeps everyone informed through regular check-ins, whether via group texts, emails, or in-person meetings. He assigns specific roles—such as ring bearer, flower boy, or seating coordinator—ensuring that each groomsman knows what is expected of them. By fostering open communication, Kristan prevents misunderstandings and builds a sense of camaraderie among the wedding party.

3.3 Managing the Wedding Rings

One of the most symbolic tasks of the best man is safeguarding the wedding rings. Kristan typically obtains a small, secure pouch or a ring box with a lock and keeps it in a safe place until the ceremony. He also coordinates with the officiant to ensure that the rings are handed over at the appropriate moment. By handling this responsibility with care, Kristan upholds the sanctity of the marriage vows.

3.4 Speech Preparation

Delivering a best man speech is a tradition that can set the tone for the entire reception. Kristan approaches this task with a blend of humor, sincerity, and storytelling. He begins by drafting an outline that highlights key memories with the groom, anecdotes that illustrate the groom's character, and heartfelt wishes for the couple's future. He rehearses multiple times, often practicing in front of a mirror or a trusted friend, to refine his delivery and ensure that the speech feels natural and engaging.

3.5 Logistical Support

On the wedding day itself, Kristan's role expands to include a range of logistical tasks. These can include managing the groomsmen's attire, coordinating transportation, ensuring that the rehearsal runs smoothly, and acting as a liaison between the wedding party and the venue staff. By maintaining a clear schedule and anticipating potential hiccups, Kristan keeps the day on track and allows the groom and bride to focus on each other.

3.6 Emotional Support

Beyond the tangible tasks, the best man must also provide emotional support. The wedding day can be a whirlwind of emotions—excitement, nervousness, and sometimes even stress. Kristan offers a steady presence, ready to listen, offer advice, or simply share a laugh. This emotional anchor is often what distinguishes a good best man from a truly exceptional one.
